North House

North House originated to serve homeless and at-risk families in North Durham, a largely small-town area encompassing Uxbridge, Scugog and Brock Townships. With no shelters, scarce accommodation and high rental fees, residents who lost jobs or lived on social assistance were often forced to leave the community.

North House bridges the gap. Six families and individuals receive transitional housing at North House's complex in Beaverton or through rent subsidies. Residents draw support and set goals for themselves through a "Wraparound" process, emerging from North House ready to move forward on their strengths.
