

Diocesan Choir Camp Music Day hosted by Trinity, Aurora!

Saturday Sept. 19th, 2026

Welcome to Choir Camp!

The Toronto Diocesan Choir Camp is now sponsoring FREE single day choral workshop events.

Let's get together to celebrate choral music at Trinity Anglican, Aurora!

Choir camp alumni and singers throughout the Diocese of any age or voicing (SATB) are invited to join us for a Choir Camp Music Day at Trinity Anglican, Aurora
on Saturday September 19th, 9:30am-4:00pm

This is an intergenerational event and families are most welcome! Our day will feature three choral singing workshops with our clinician Nicholas Nicolaidis.

Nicholas is an award-winning conductor, professional tenor, and respected vocal pedagogue based in Toronto (see attached bio). We will also enjoy some fellowship activities and a catered lunch. At the end each of workshop sessions we will capture our learning by creating a short video. There is no cost for this event, but pre-registration is required!

Meet our clinician!

Nicholas Nicolaidis is an award-winning conductor, professional tenor, and respected vocal pedagogue based in Toronto. He serves as Assistant Conductor of the Toronto Mendelssohn Choir and is the co-founder and musical director of the Trinity Bach Project, where he brings scholarly insight and vibrant musicianship to Bach's choral works.

A graduate of the University of the Witwatersrand (BMus, Vocal Performance) with further studies in London, Nicholas is also a professional tenor with the Toronto Mendelssohn Choir and Elora Singers, frequently appearing in major choral repertoire including Bach's Passions and the great oratorio works.

In addition to maintaining a thriving private voice studio, he teaches vocal health and technique at Royal St George's College and St Michael's Choir School. Known for his clarity, energy, and technical precision, Nicholas equips singers with the tools to perform with confidence, stylistic understanding, and expressive freedom.
